

THE HERALD.

JNO. P. BARRETT, Editor.
CICERO T. SUTTON, Editor.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 15, 1882.

CHARACTER, and not creed, is man's best passport to the hearts of his fellow men.

PHARISAEISM and hypocrisy are doing more to-day to check the progress of true Christianity than all the infidelity of the age.

DICK WOLFE, who killed Jack Luckett in Owensboro some time since, was admitted to bail last week in the sum of $2,000.

PROF. NOBLE BUTLER, one of the leading scholars and foremost educators of the country, died at his home in Louisville last Sunday night about midnight. He was nearly 72 years old.

CHRISTIAN county has a woman who is forty-seven inches high, weighs fifty-six pounds, is twenty-six years old, and has been married six years. Her husband is a man of ordinary size.

LAST week, in one day, ten suits were filed in the Muhlenberg court against parties in this county. All were from Ohio county. If they keep on at this rate a few days, they will have entered a suit against every man in this county.

COL. C. T. ALLEN, editor of the Princeton Banner, is a candidate for Congress in his district. If his people think he would make as good a Congressman as he has an editor they will certainly send him to Washington.

THERE should be nothing terrible about death. It is either a protracted sleep or it is a glorious awakening. We can none of us know what is beyond the tomb, so why should we spend half of life in fruitless fears for the hereafter?

THE way to give the McHenry movement life and vitality is to denounce and ridicule its leaders. The Owensboro Messenger's denunciation of McHenry as a traitor has helped the movement in this region more than the open advocacy of that paper would have done.

"MINISTERIAL OFFICERS," by J. E. Fogie Esq., of this bar, contained in the February number of the Kentucky Law Journal, is a review of that subject in a candid and learned manner, and presents a question of vital interest to officers intrusted with the discharge of ministerial duties throughout the Commonwealth, and, as well, to the bench, bar and people of the whole State.

SENATOR BECK has been waging war on the infamous pension laws, in his dispatches state that the army of claim agents have been too much for him. The money that has been paid out under the arrears of pension act would have more than liquidated the public debt, and yet Congressmen are to be found who are in favor of it, and a sufficient number of them to keep it on the statutes of the United States.

SOME of our exchanges are in mourning because they were swindled by Dr. M. E. Bell, of Baltimore, Md., out of advertising to the amount of several dollars. We asked the Doctor full rates, cash in advance, and then charged him fifty per cent. additional on account of the character of his advertisement. We never heard from him afterward and were satisfied that he was a humbug. Cash in advance will kill all the frauds.

THE Seymour Times says that in the everyday affairs of life, of course this does not include love affairs, for to navigate them with any kind of safety a man has got to be like a dog it is better to tell the truth right along. Leaders of the Times soon become so honest that they won't lie a bit, not even in a horse scrap. If the Times has this effect on its readers, there may be three or four men in Ohio county who should read it.

WHEN a man makes a proposition that you have never heard before do not condemn it simply because you are unacquainted with it. Such a course adopted by all would forever keep the world submerged in the foul cesspools of error, and truth would never dawn raise its lily hand. New truths are daily being brought to the surface of the stream of life, and at least let them float until they can be examined, if not by yourself, by some one else who is more liberally disposed.

THE Hartford Herald preaches a sermon on the McHenry movement, taking as its text Mr. Robinson's remark in the Frankfort convention that "the Democrats could not afford to nominate any man who was intimate enough with Mr. Lincoln to write him a letter on any subject." The only trouble about the sermon is that no such text can be found in Mr. Robinson's remarks in the convention. Mr. Robinson said "let us not nominate a man because he was so intimate enough with Mr. Lincoln to write him a letter."

It comes to a question of honesty and sanity we are willing to count noses with the Courier-Journal. Carelessness or ought to be classed as a species of insanity, and when a paper of the pretensions of the C-J, does not discern the difference between a communication to the paper and an editorial expression of opinion, it is either very careless or very ignorant. The "sermon" alluded to, and a most excellent and sensible one it was, was preached by one of our most worthy citizens, and not by the editors or any one connected with this office. If the Courier-Journal were even half as sane as our correspondent "M." that paper would never be forced to take water on account of its flighty utterances, and we should never witness the spectacle of its chief editor, who is the prince of lubberlies, appearing in a personal card, to ward off from the paper the just indignation of aggrieved citizens.

THE efforts of the Echo to christianize Greenville seems to have succeeded, as the paper states that for about the space of two weeks the town has been perfectly quiet.

DEMOCRATS, the primary election is fast approaching. Saturday, March 11th, 1882, is an important day for the Democrats of this county. You that day select your county ticket, and upon your selection depends your success or defeat. If you are actuated by prejudice or personal favoritism and select a poor ticket you will get their money, snuffed at the August election. If you select a ticket composed of capable, honest, consistent men, you will probably succeed in August. Much depends on your selection. We are not writing in the interest of any candidate or any class in particular, but for the good of the masses. It is detrimental to the best interests of the county to have incompetent and untrustworthy men elevated to office, and we like to see all parties nominate good men, so that in any event we will have good officers. We repeat, Democrats be careful to select a ticket of good, competent, reliable, honest men, and this gives you a good show of success.

A Word to the Wise.

Editor Herald:

The Republicans have put out a full ticket and have made their boasts that they will carry the county. To accomplish this they will leave no stone unturned. With their unblinking audacity they date to enter the sacred precincts of Democracy and attempt to control in selecting Democratic candidates. Let the Democratic party be on the lookout for all such Republican tricks. The Democrats should study well the situation, select candidates well qualified for the various offices untrammelled by Republican tricks and influence, and all will be well.

R. P. Hocker for Sheriff.

Editor Herald:

Having in the last few weeks conversed with a good many of the party of the county, we find considerable desire on their part, for Hon. R. P. Hocker make the race for Sheriff. He comes up to the old and time-honored test of Democracy. "He is honest and he is capable." We believe he will be nominated if he will announce himself a candidate, and then he will be elected, and we hazard nothing in saying that he will make as good a Sheriff as will be elected in the State in August next. Let us hear from you, Dick. You have served the party well in the past, and they are anxious to try you again. Announce yourself a candidate and you will receive, as you deserve, the support of MANY VOTERS.

Our Sam Hill.

Hon. Sam E. Hill, of Hartford, is very generally spoken of as a strong man for Lieutenant Governor. It is a certain fact that the State possesses no better material for the place. He is bold, fearless and able, and in case of the necessity of a warm canvass Capt. Hill is the very man for it. He is a good debater and one of the best young orators of the State. If Capt. Hill's friends succeed in putting him into the race, he will be a strong candidate for his record, made in the Senate of 1877-78, gave him an acquaintance all over the State and a popularity second to no Senator of the same body. The only charge brought against him is the old one—the "penitentiary desecration," but he has taken the matter up and he will be the worst bait in the State, and would cause the listeners to say, "he's blooded." Baltimore Globe.

As McHenry Sees It.

There is an "impending crisis" in the politics of Kentucky. He who is not impressed with this fact is indeed unimpressed.

There is a cloud of revolution arising. At present it is not bigger than a man's hand, but it will grow and when it comes, it will sweep the whole horizon. We do not now express, and have not heretofore expressed, any sympathy with the movement of McHenry, Jacob and others—but we have lived in vain and have read to little advantage if we have gained no lesson from observation or from history.

For some years past there has been a dissatisfaction with the political matters have been carried on by a few assumed leaders in Kentucky, and restiveness under the narrow and bigoted dictations of certain would-be rulers.

Heretofore there has been no general revolt, but where the flag of independence has been raised it has come off victorious.

Look at the first district—the "Gibraltar of Kentucky Democracy." Oscar Turner raised the banner of independence, and he beat court-house cliques, county committees, and district conventions.

Look at Louisville, Albert Willis "hung out his banners on the outer walls," and although opposed by every organization of the party, foisted a district convention up to the "State Executive Committee"—including every Democratic paper in the city of Louisville—he was elected with such a majority as amounted to a "spontaneous combustion."

To the Union Democrats.

Editor Herald:

I regret very much to see the effort that is now being made to disintegrate the Democratic party, and especially do I regret to see Ohio county mentioned as among the first to organize under the independent flag. That there are abuses in the Democratic party that ought to be corrected, no one is more ready to admit than I, yet the remedy now proposed strikes me as worse than the disease. If the principles of the party are worth fighting for, surely, under its flag, and within its lines, is the proper place to do battle. There are few men whom I hold in higher esteem than Col. John H. McHenry, who seems to be at the head of the independent movement, and I would be pleased to follow him in every effort to correct the evils of his complaints within the party lines, but I cannot see that to sever or divide would have any other than a suicidal effect. I am a Democrat for the love I have for pure Democratic principles, but I have no love or fellowship for their abuse. Again, I cannot see that this independent movement is justified upon the grounds of Gen. Frank Worford's failure to get the nomination at Frankfort. That combination were formed there, that resulted in the nomination of Mr. Henry, I presume no one will deny, and I would rejoice to know that a similar transaction would never again darken the records of a Democratic convention. Yet, Gen. Worford's failure cannot be attributed to that combination, for he had fallen before it came up, and I am frank to say that I never witnessed the defeat of a political aspirant that I so much regretted. He is a true Democrat, and every way worthy, both of military honors and civil preferment, and I feel to-day that the Democratic party, and the State of Kentucky owe him a debt of gratitude that should be paid by elevating him to the highest office in the gift of the people. But suppose Worford's defeat was brought about by the combination: what is to be gained by drawing off from the Democratic party and forming a new one? There are not enough Union Democrats in the State who would forsake the present organization to make a successful party, and there would not be half as many Union Democrats elected as there are now, unless a combination or coalition was formed with other parties, which I believe is now the proposition. Now I ask all candid thinking persons whether it appears quite consistent to draw off from the Democratic party to form a combination with other parties, and make similar combinations with opposing parties. Aside from the inconsistency of such a course what good policy can be seen in it? We can see a stroke of policy on the part of the Republicans in giving aid and encouragement to all such movements, in every way they can consistently do, so as to make the breach as wide as possible. But does anyone suppose that they think for a moment of deserting their own organization and joining the independent movement? They may vote with them on some unimportant occasions, but every time a sharp contest comes up and their service is needed, they will go back home to vote and leave the Independents floundering in the mud, just as they do the Greenbackers at every important election. In conclusion, allow me to ask Union Democrats of this county, who are called upon to join the Independent ranks, what reason can you assign for so doing? In reviewing the past I am impressed with the fact that Union Democrats have filled nearly all of the offices of honor and trust in the county ever since the war. If any party in Ohio county has a right to complain for want of recognition, it seems to me to be the Southern Democrats. I am therefore persuaded that you, Union Democrats will ponder long and well before you decide to take so rash a course, seeing that the only effect it can have will be to hand the Democratic party of Ohio county over to the Republicans. If you prefer that the Republicans shall be the dominant party, better far that you walk right over and join their ranks, then it can be said of a truth, that they went out from among us because they were not of us.

Very truly,
THOMAS TAYLOR.

May I Come to See You?

Do you ask whom I am? I am the Hartford Herald, laden with all the freshest news of the day. I want to come to see you weekly and tell you all I learn. I will at each visit repeat beautiful poems to you, tell you interesting romances, rehearse bright literary gems, re-echo in your ears the joys of new-born babies, detail minutely the accidents and incidents of the week, give you advancements in science, art, and music, the discoveries in astronomy, the progress made in educational channels, reflect the state of the political horizon, advise you of the busy life of commerce, keep you posted as to the sayings, doings and new departures in the religious societies of the age, whisper in your ear the sad news of the friends, relatives and acquaintances who have left us for that "unknown beyond."

In short, will bring you all the news I can possibly carry. If you will only give me masters, Barrett & Sutton, $1.50 they will send me to see you every Wednesday for a whole year. Think of it, only three cents a visit, and I will bring you ten-fold that amount in valuable information. My masters have no mercy on me, but pile on the news as long as I can bear up under it. May I come? My masters are very liberal to those who invite me to visit them, and will distribute more than $200 worth of useful articles among those who invite me to visit them during the year. Now I know you'll invite me after hearing this earnest appeal.

To the Business Men of Ohio County.

THE HERALD is the only paper published in this county, and a majority of its readers are citizens of this advertising counties, and its circulation is principally among that class of our citizens where custom is worth seeking for.

The trade of the business men in this county is confined to retail, and we sincerely believe that advertising in our paper is the surest, safest and cheapest way to secure that trade.

Nothing is ever lost by judicious advertising. Let the people know what you have for sale, and they will come to you to supply their wants. We hope our merchants and business men of all classes will see and appreciate the importance of making their wants known through the columns of the HERALD.

Respectfully,
Rosine Rackett.

A Neap-Geant.

Rev. Nelson Ball, who so mysteriously disappeared from the upper portion of this county last summer with from $1,500 to $2,000 of the people's money, returned a short time ago to the neighborhood he had so shamefully misappropriated, went to Friendship Church, where his membership was at the time of his departure, made his acknowledgments, was restored to full fellowship in the church, was granted a letter of dismission to that effect, gathered up his household goods and left the country without settling with his creditors and others whom he had so shamefully defrauded. He is now doubtless in some other section laying his pipe to defraud the brethren. His destination being unknown, and being armed with a commendatory letter from Friendship Church, which he obtained under false pretences, there is no way for his friends here to reach him and save from loss those who are destined to become his victims.

Rockport Items.

February 11th, 1882.

I have but little news to report this week. Business is moderately good with our merchants, and the log business is booming.

A fadboat loaded with hoop-poles left our wharf this morning for New Orleans.

Mr. H. J. Young is building a new residence, and I dare say that when completed it will be a handsome building.

Dr. W. B. Gardner is still hammering away on the remodeled Rockport Court House.

Mr. John H. Brizendine, of Greenville, was here on business this week. Mr. Brizendine is proprietor of the Greenville tannery and horse collar factory, and is a good fellow and a No. 1 business man.

Messrs. Wm. H. Fulkerson and Jo Robertson, of Smalltown neighborhood, were in town this week.

Messrs. Perry and Pendleton Benton have gone to Evansville on a raft of logs.

Messrs. A. Robertson and D. Tichenor returned from Evansville this week. Master Ernest Tracy, of Hartford, is looking up his uncle, Laf. Bennett, at the Duke House. Ernest thinks the big steamboat and railroad bridge are grand sights to see.

ROMULES.

February 12th, 1882.

I am fourteen years old, and am going to school to Miss Alberta Murray. I am making very fine progress with my studies, having gone through the Geography, Grammar and Fourth Reader.

We are all for Reason Chapman for Corner. I hope he will be elected, as the office is so important.

I am a reader of your paper, and like to read it very much.

The health of the county is very good at present. Business is lively, and so are the candidates.

No more at present.

Rescued from Death.

The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when, to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and today I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years."

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles, and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared, and I shall soon be able to go to work." Sold by druggists.

A Card of Thanks.

McHenry, Ky., Feb. 10th, 1882.

Editor Herald:

I take this method of expressing to my patrons and pupils my heart-felt thanks for the kindness shown me during my stay with them for the past five months. A man as generous and kind as you cannot be found in any district that can be found in old Independence, district No. 65, and to my pupils, I can say you studied well, and respected me as your teacher, and whoever your teachers may be in the future, treat them with the same kindness, and you will be loved by them as by me.

Mrs. Partington says.

don't take any of the quack nostrums, as they are regimental to the human system; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dilapidation, costive habits and all come diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of travel fever. They are the most potent of medicines. - Boston Globe.

WM. W. P. ELLIS authorizes us to announce that he is a candidate for Assessor of Ohio county, subject to the Democratic primary election, Saturday, March 11th, 1882.

We are authorized to announce HIRAM C. MADDON a candidate for Assessor of Ohio county, subject to the Democratic primary election, Saturday, March 11th, 1882.

PERSONAL.
Mrs. Squire Maury, of Dixon, Ky., is visiting her son, Mr. W. H. Maury.

Mrs. James A. Rowe is quite sick with typhoid fever. She is at the residence of Mrs. Gibson.

Willie Miller and sister, Lucella, are pupils of Hartford College. They board at Mr. B. Berryman's.

Little Bobbie, son of Hon. E. D. Walker, is quite sick at this writing, but is thought to be improving.

Thos. Baird, the popular young clerk at the Hartford House, was visiting relatives at Island Station for a day or two this week.

Our young friend, L. J. Kahn, Esq., representing the wholesale firm of Bamberg, Bloom & Co., Louisville, was in town a day or two this week.

We have a brand-new "devil" in our office, in the person of W. S. Jarboe. He is a good one, and will visit the patrons of the HERALD every Wednesday morning with the HERALD.

Mr. J. W. Roach, representing the wholesale hat house of Toran & Barber, Evansville, Ind., has been in town for several days past, the guest of the Hartford House.

The many friends of Rev. T. E. Richey, Princeton, Ky., will regret to learn of the illness of his entire family. We trust his illness is not serious and health will soon return.

A. H. Stafford, formerly of Princeton, Ky., has removed to Greenville, Ky., and is engaged in the tannery business. He is an old-time friend of ours, and we wish him the success he so richly merits in his new location.

Mr. S. P. Coleman and wife, of Beaver Dam, visited us yesterday, and after looking through our establishment, renewed their subscription to the end of 1882. Reader, come thou and do likewise.

We have recently learned that Dr. N. J. Rains, of Rosine, has changed the scene of his operations to Marshall county, Tenn. We have had the pleasure of being personally acquainted with Dr. Rains for many years, and at all times have found him to be an upright and honorable citizen. Dr. Rains commenced the study of medicine in 1871, and after taking two courses of lectures in Louisville, Ky., graduated with high honors. Locating at Rosine, in this county, he commenced the practice of medicine, and by close application to business he soon gained an enviable reputation and a large and lucrative practice. In 1880-'81 he took a post graduate course in Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, Pa. The removal of Dr. Rains causes Ohio county to lose one of her best citizens and an honorable member of the medical profession, one equalled in his profession by but few, and surpassed by none. We regret to lose him, and trust he may be properly appreciated in his new home.

—Call on Tracy for all kinds of Farming Implements.

—On HAND.—Ten barrels Homestead Fertilizer, at the Red Front.

—Tracy keeps the best Plows in the market; all steel, and can be sharpened.

—You can get an A. No. 1 Sewing Machine for Twenty Dollars at Anderson's Bazaar.

—For Grass Seed of all kinds, including Seed Oats, Onions, Onion Sets, Garden and Flower Seeds, go to the Red Front.

—Died, near Hartford, Ky., February 8, 1882, Jennie, wife of Lewis Griffin, of color. She was a member of the M. E. Church, in good standing at the time of her death, and died firm in the faith.

—Mr. Wm. E. Snyder, of West Labanon, Ohio, says: For sometime past I had been severely afflicted with Rheumatism. Seeing an advertisement of St. Jacobs Oil, I procured a bottle, and I could feel the effect of the Oil upon the first application. I am now entirely well after using one bottle. —Wayne Co., Ohio Democrat.

—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of J. Monroe Taylor. This house has been established nearly 40 years, and their goods are celebrated for purity and strength. We would recommend a trial of their Gold Medal brands to all who desire superior cookery.

—T. E. Richey obtained the formula for his Anti-Malarial Pills, from one of the best physicians of America. For Chills, Billionsness, Costiveness, Sick Headache, &c., nothing equals them. He has sold thousands of boxes, and is now putting them in the stores of the Green River country, hoping his friends will give them a trial.

—Every Plow sold by Tracy warranted to do good work; all steel.

—Young men should call at Anderson's Bazaar and see the samples and leave their measures for a suit of Devlin's Clothing. You will thus secure complete fits at New York prices.

—Mr. Hiram C. Maddox, an honest, sober, industrious young man of McHenry, is this week announced as a candidate for Assessor, subject to the Democratic primary election. He is physically, mentally and morally well qualified for the position.

—Our Cromwell friends who are in arrears with the HERALD will please call on Mr. J. Will Cooper, at that place, and pay the amounts due. He has a statement of all subscription accounts, and is authorized to receive and receipt for money due this office.

—Died, at the residence of Geo. W. Bunker, in Hartford, Monday, February 13, 1882, after a brief illness of about forty-eight hours, Miss Fannie Davis. Her remains were interred in the Hartford cemetery on Monday evening.

—Every farmer in Ohio or any of the adjoining counties should subscribe at once for the HERALD, if not already a subscriber. We are offering in our Gift Distribution several farming implements, among others a fine two-horse Steel Plow, which can be seen at D. F. Tracy's shop, Hartford, Ky.

Mrs. C. Whipple, 371 Croghan Street, presents these facts: For six years I had suffered beyond all expression with Sciatica Rheumatism and tried every known remedy, but all to no purpose. At last I saw in the Free Press an advertisement of the St. Jacobs Oil, tried it and am well. I can walk without limping and sleep free from pain.

—Have you seen our handsome double case stem-winding silver watch. Look in the show case of Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., and you will see it. It is a first-class watch in every respect. It is one of C. P. Barnes & Bro.'s best silver watches. Their brand upon it is a sufficient endorsement that it is genuine. Are you a subscriber to the HERALD, if so, you have a chance to have this elegant watch given to you.

—Time speeds away, away, away, Another hour another day.

And the first thing you know we will have our 2,500 subscribers to the HERALD, and you will not be one of the number, and will not have a chance to participate in our Gift Distribution.

You want the paper anyhow, and had as well subscribe at once and secure a ticket. You are going to pay us what you owe us anyhow some of these days, and why not do so in time to get in on the premium list.

Look at the beautiful gold watch in Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.'s show case. It is a double case stem-winding, patent movement and regular, 18 carats gold, and worth $150. It will be given away to some one of our subscribers. Those not subscribers to the HERALD will have no chance to draw it, while every subscriber will have a chance. It costs you nothing to try, for the paper is worth $2 a year, and you get it at $1.50 and a chance at the prizes besides. Subscribe at once and take a chance. This watch is from the popular jewelry firm of C. P. Barnes & Bro., Louisville, Ky.

—Among the many valuable premiums in our Gift Distribution will be found the famous Vindicta seen in the Green River country. It is a genuine Italian Violin, made by the celebrated Maggini, and is worth $55. We have already received it, including bow and box, and will have it on exhibition soon. Every musician hereabouts should subscribe for the HERALD and take a chance for this superior instrument. We procured this violin through D. P. Fauds, 523 Fourth avenue, Louisville, Ky., who is known to be one of the leading dealers in the whole south and west in music and musical instruments. We have his guarantee that what we say of it is correct.

—Westward the Star of Empire takes its way! but to the HERALD office everybody in this Green River water are taking their way just now and subscribing for the HERALD. Why? Because they say it is a good paper, their local paper, gives them the news of the day, is worth $2.00 a year but they get it for only $1.50 and get a ticket besides to each subscriber giving a chance in the HERALD's Gift Distribution of not less than $500 worth of valuable useful and ornamental goods. They appreciate this liberality of the publishers and are showing it by a liberal patronage.

—The Standford Hotel, Louisville, Ky., is now one of the best hotels in the place. It has been enlarged about fifty per cent. during the past year, has a new and spacious dining-hall, a nice reading-room, a very neat and comfortable reception room, an excellent elevator, and is perfect in every respect. The management of the hotel is unsurpassed, the fare good as appetite could wish for, and in every respect the hotel is perfect. It is near the L. & N. depot, where all southern and western Kentucky visitors reach and leave the city, and is very convenient, as it saves hack or omnibus fares. In short, the Standford offers more and better accommodations for less money than any other hotel in Louisville. Do not take our word for it, but try it and be convinced.

—Look in the show window of Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro. and you will see a fine Triple-Plate Crost with call-bell. This is one of the premiums in the HERALD's Gift Distribution. It cost $7.50 and was purchased from the well known jewelry House of C. P. Barnes & Bro. Louisville Ky. Surely everybody in this region of country will try this premium as it costs nothing. You want your country paper anyhow. We furnish you the kind of a paper that generally sells at $2. and never less than $1.50 per year and give you a chance at between $500 and $1000 worth of useful valuable and ornamental goods besides all for $1.50. Subscribe at once and secure a chance. Remember we close the list when 2500 subscribers are received and they are coming quite rapidly.

—Go to Tracy's for Excelsior and Avery Plows; all steel, and can be laid.

—Don't fail to attend the entertainment at College Hall next Friday night.

—For all kinds of Fancy Groceries at low down figures go to the Red Front.

—A. B. Robertson, of Burksville, Va., sent T. E. Richey $5 more for his Pills, and says they are in great demand in the Old Dominion.

—The closing exercises of Miss Alberta Murray's school, near Horton, will come off next Friday afternoon, and will no doubt be very interesting.

—Pink-Eye is still raging in town. Mr. Jas. A. Carter lost another horse this week and Mr. J. P. Sandefur and Mr. J. S. Vaught have each a horse with the same disease.

—A job lot of Ladies' Shoes are being offered at wonderfully low prices at Anderson's Bazaar. They are only to be had in numbers three and a half and four.

—The entertainment to be given by the citizens of town to the literary societies of Hartford College, next Friday night, bids fair to be a pleasant occasion.

—James Medcalf, who was arrested near Magan a week or two ago, on a charge of moonshining, has been sent to the Louisville jail, in default of bail in the sum of $1,000.

—The entertainment to be given by the citizens of Hartford, next Friday night, to the literary societies of Hartford College promises to be quite an interesting affair. The programme appears in this issue.

—The Democratic candidates for the various county offices subject to the primary election on the 11th of March opened up the canvass at Buford last Monday. There are about thirty of them, and "more to follow."

—For free, rapid, healthy and natural digestion, use Ball's Digestive Salt at the table instead of ordinary table salt. By its use you obtain that perfect health which comes from a sound stomach. See advertisement.

—Henry Clay Warmoth, agent of the Adams Express Company at Brandenburg, defaulted to the tune of $18,000 and left last December. He has recently been arrested in Philadelphia, and will be brought back to Brandenburg for trial.

—If you never have subscribed for the HERALD heretofore you cannot afford to decline to do so longer for the paper is well worth all you pay for it and we give you a chance to secure a handsome premium, worth from $1.00 to $150 besides. Subscribe at once.

—Hon. R. P. Hocker closed a five months' school at Liberty Schoolhouse last Saturday. The inclement weather prevented proper preparation for the closing exercises, but they were quite entertaining notwithstanding. Mr. Hocker is a very successful teacher.

—If you want a first-class one-horse Plow, you had better subscribe at once for the HERALD. You thus have a chance to get one for nothing in our Gift Distribution. You can see the plow by calling at Dan F. Tracy's shop, Hartford, Ky.

—We know of a merchant in Hartford who has the promise of the exclusive patronage of every candidate for Assessor in Ohio county, providing he is elected. Anderson's Bazaar, however, has a still better thing. It will get the exclusive patronage of all who are not elected, and expects to make a fortune in consequence.

—Barrett & Brother, Hartford, Ky., have had more than ten years' experience in Fire Insurance. They represent none but the very best and most liberal companies, will insure your property as low as the lowest, and insure it so that if you have a loss you will have no squabble or controversy, but your loss promptly adjusted and paid. Insure with them and be safe.

—Do not buy cheap medicine on the score of economy. The best are none too good for the sick, and are the cheapest. Such are the Cherry Pectoral, the Sarsaparilla and other standard remedies of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. They are worth all they cost, and should be in every house.

—Mr. N. L. Fitch, of the firm of Fitch & Merrill, tailors and clothiers, Louisville, Ky., will be here February 24th inst., with a full line of samples for spring and summer clothing for men, youths and boys. They are first-class goods, give entire satisfaction in fit, quality of goods, and prices, and our people will find it to their interest to reserve their orders until Mr. Fitch comes. Remember the time: February 24th, 1882.

—We are indebted to Mr. W. H. Williams for a nice treat last Saturday night. He visited this office and gave us some very sweet music on our Italian violin. Mr. Williams is an excellent violinist and pronounces our violin a first class one. Remember that we have this violin to give away to a Subscriber of the Hartford Herald. It is worth $35, and is from that reliable dealer in music and musical instruments, D. P. Fauds, Fourth avenue Louisville Ky. If you are a subscriber you take a chance to get it in our Gift Distribution.

A Card.
To the Democracy of Ohio County:
FELLOW-CITIZENS:—Owing to my present business relations, I resort to this method of presenting myself to the public as a candidate for the office of Assessor of Ohio county.

There being a probability of an early convention of the Democratic party to which I shall submit my name for nomination as a candidate for the above-said office, I deem this a fitting manner of placing my name before you, that you, in your wisdom, may have ample opportunity of determining whether or not I possess the qualifications necessary to make an efficient public servant.

It has ever been my object in all my dealings with the public to merit by my attention to every trust confided in me the approbation of all.

I shall, if possible, approach my fellow-citizens personally before the convention, in the meantime, I bespeak a kindly consideration of my claims by each member of the party.

Respectfully,
M. MARION STATER.
